Blows A Sparky

 Wibbly worm action from Elite!

Berrrrlimey! This is it! One of the highest rated games in the history of CRASH!! 95% and no mistake. it used to cost a tenner, but now it's yours for nearly nothing, and it's the completely amazing Fat Worm Blows A Sparky - oddest title ever, oddest game ever!!

t's no use hiding the fact that Fatty is the world's most dense worm. And being such, has clearly hit upon the theory that the inside of a Speccy is the place where he's least likely to be hassled by blackbirds, robins and the like

thrills

But the inside of the average Spectrum is absolutely crawling with life. Creeper bugs buzz around in Sputniks, swooping low over the main PCB. The Sputniks, if not dealt with, transform into Crawlies which try to attach themselves to Fatty. Just to add to the problems, termitelike Crawlies sometimes erupt from the surface of the PCB and chase him around! Blee! Fatty's eventual aim in life is to pass on his genes (and we're not talking 501s here!) to another generation. Considering the limited intelligence he has displayed to date, this seems a thoroughly dubious goal. To reproduce, Fatty needs to collect 50 spindles lying around on the PCB. Then he's got to find the disk drive, get all his data copied and clone himself.

The microscopic world of Fatty is a world of bewildering height and depth. What might seem a sliver of silver conductor to you or me is an insurmountable obstacle to him. To get around, he has to be carefully steered up convenient ramps and slid along data buses suspended at dizzying heights above the PCB. All the various bits and blocks scattered around the place are given true perspective, so that, when they're at the centre of the screen, they appear flat. As Fatty moves, and the object approaches the edge of screen, its sides come into view giving an impression of height not unlike flying over a Lilliputian version of New York. Fatty's fate is sealed if more than four Crawlies hitch a lift on his back, but there are handy debuggers scattered around, and by crawling into them, he can shed any Crawlies picked up. He can also fight back against the Crawlies by using blaster sparkies fired horizontally straight from the nose, and by laying burper sparkles which wait until a Sputnik is flying overhead and then rise up to eliminate it. Very high-flying Sputniks are, unfortunately, immune. Burpers are also useful for changing direction, and can take out any Crawlies which happen to bump into them.

Extra sparkies are awarded for picking up spindles, and can also be picked up when zipping along the thin data buses. And misfired burper sparkies which end up lying on the PCB can be consumed and regurgitated later. Mapping is an essential feature to find Fatty's way around the immense circuit, and to help, the game has a small insert map showing some of the nearby obstacles, spindles, and a rough indication of Fatty's present position.

And if you've managed to take that lot in you'll be ready to blow a few sparkies yourself, here's how...

FAT CONTROLS

Control of Fatty (Wormius Enormous) is either by the keyboard (redefinable keys) or using a joystick on a Kempston interface.

Next up is the Ski Jump. Hit the Q key when the power metre (at the bottom right-hand side of the screen) is at maximum level. As the skier lands on the bottom of the ramp, hit the A key to jump. An early or a late jump results in a fall, and we don't want that. The third event is the Skling. Like speed skating, use keys 1 and 2 possible to reach the line inside the qualifying time.

qualifying time. Exhausted yet?
You will be! The penultimate event is the Bob-sled. The course is viewed from over-head and you use keys Q/up, A/down, alternately to build up your speed, and ski as fast as you can to reach the finish line within the O/left, and P/right to steer the sled around the track. Be careful — if you crash you don't qualify for a score. Finally it's the Biathlon. To advance to the targets, press the Q key each time the metre is at maximum. Hit all the targets within the qualifying time to complete the first round of events. As you progress through Alpinie Games, each event gets harder. You lose a life every time you fail to qualify in any event and when all your lives have gone, your score and performance figures; are given together with details of any medals won. And that's it — go for the gold!

GAMES

• Winter sport action from Atlantis!

It's a funny old world, isn't it viewers? Last month we were shivering our timbers with Elite's Scuba Dive and this month we're just plain shivering with Alpine Games - a set of five different winter sports!

ut with all the action and exercise Alpine Games offers there's no need to be cold again — you'll be sweating buckets by the time you've completed the five events. So, strap on your ski-goggles and get ready for the first event: Speed Skating! Use keys 1 and 2 alternately to slowly and rhythmically build up the speed of your skier. Skate as fast as Brain-busting puzzle action from Cult!

Kemshu is a whizzo puzzle game which at the start will have you saying things like 'Blimey, it's a mite confusing and no mistake!', but this could not be further from the truth — it's dead simple! In fact, it's so simple it's confusing! Double-blimey!

ou start off with a square playing area, covered with multi-coloured blocks, and the flashing white thing is your control cursor. So far so good, eh? Now then, the colour block at the bottom of the status panel under the word Target is Your Colour. The objective is to change the colours of the playing area to Your Colour. To change a square's colour you have to surround it with four of your own colours — one at the top, one at the bottom and one on each side of it.

The rows and columns of coloured blocks can be slid vertically or horizontally by moving the cursor around the screen and then holding fire down and pushing the joystick (or appropriate key) in the direction you want to slide them. As long as the screen is completed within the time limit you move on to the next puzzle screen - don't forget to check your target colour. It may take a couple of goes to get to grips with Kemshu — but once mastered you'll love it! We were playing it for ages here; however, CRASH can accept no responsibility for anyone going a bit barmy while playing Kemshu. Okay?!

CONTROLS

You can use a joystick, or tackle Kemshu's puzzles using keys, which are: Q/up, A/down, O/left, P/right, M/fire and H/pause.

DOMSKULLE

A graphical extravaganza of an arcade adventure!!

Prepare yourself for a map attack! Yes, Doomskulle is one of those brilliant arcade adventures that is just crying out to be mapped! Well, it does feature 100 graphically brilliant screens and it's great to play! It all comes from CRASH reader Richard Cowie from Aberdeen!! Hurrah!

he Doomskulle is a weird and wonderful...erm, thing. But, heck!, it's been shattered into four pieces and those pieces lost within the depths of a dangerous and well spooky forest. Many have tried to collect it before you, but have been killed by the legions of vicious creatures which roam the forest floors, which only resulted in scattering the four pieces further apart from each other.

However, the collection of the Doomskulle is not all that your quest involves — a magic book must be found if the curse over the forest is to be lifted! Right then, you budding Indiana Jones: enter the forest and get on with it.

Objects litter the forest, and if you think one may be of use to you pick it up (by standing on it and pressing fire) and store it for later use. When you reach the location where you think an object should be used drop it (stand still and press fire). If the object can affect something in the location, it will — if not chuck it or store it for another time. For example — to get past the giant ape drop some bananas.

Extra shots of ammunition and extra lives can be collected by running over the relevant icons. Most of the wild-life is killed off by firing at them — though you'll need a good aim, they move quickly. To fire ammo press FIRE whilst moving in the direction you want to shoot. T'riffic, eh?

YOU'RE DOOMED...

If you don't know the controls! Q/up, A/down, O/left, P/right and SPACE/fire. Maps and solutions to DJ Nicko's Tips ASAP!

YOU ARE?! YOU COULD WIN A SAM COUPE, COPIES OF PIPE MANIA AND T-SHIRTS!!!

DON'T GO DOWN THE DRAIN..

...Get hold of Empire's piping hot puzzle game Pipe Mania — it's the wild and wacky plumbing game that'll drive you round the bend! The object of the game is to lay down a series of pipe bits to form one continuous pipeline — but the problem is that someone's already turned on the tap, and the yucky fluid Flooz is hurtling down the pipe!! Can you build enough of the pipeline before the Flooz catches up with you?! If you're the lucky first prize winner in this Pipe Mania compo you'll find out soon enough as Empire are giving away a a copy of Pipe Mania, a Pipe Mania t-shirt and, hey!, a blooming SAM Coupé! Wagga wagga!! And for ten runners-up there's a copy of Pipe Mania and a tshirt each!

To be in with a chance of winning you're going to have to do some plumbing — there's a Pipe Mania puzzle to solve! See the empty grid, with a start and finish point and rows numbered one to five? Well, it's with a start and tinish point and rows numbered one to five? Well, it's ready to have a pipe system plumbed into it — one which takes the Flooz from start to finish and goes through every square on the grid. The pipe sections have already been made up into rows (lettered A to E), but which of the pipe rows fit into the five rows on the empty grid? To get you started, it's obvious that pipe section D slots into row three because that is where the Start is. Okay, get the idea? Good — off you go. Fill in the entry form with all the answers (or write them on a separate piece of paper) and send it off to us at: NEWSFIELD, PIPE MANIA COMPO, CRASH, LUDLOW, SHROPSHIRE SY8 1JW. Entries here by June 25 or you'll end up down the drain!

FAMOUS WHAMS THROUGH HISTORY

WHAM!: This is what happened when the old 60s Batman gave undesirables a thick ear. The Wham! flash co-starred with other fondly remembered exclamations such as Kerpowl and Thwack! Though all one gathers from the recent movie is not to rub another man's rhubarb'. Oh dear.

WHAM!: The pop group. Oh! How they stormed the hit parade through the 80s with such melodious tunes as Wake Mer Up Before You Go-Go, Wham Rap, Young Guns and many, many more. Then George Michael (the good-looking one) started singing about Careless Whispers on his own and, blami, Wham! were no more. Andrew Ridgely popped up again a few months back with the so-called 'song' Shake which didn't quite storm the charts. (Oh

• WHAM: as in 'Wham, bam thank you ma'm'. The phrase one says politely to the Queen after being Knighted (are you quiter sure about this one? —Ed). Oh

WHAM: The yummy scrummy chewy bar. A firm favourite wiith everyone, in fact it's so famous it's stuck to the cover of this month's CRASHI Hurrahl

LLOYD MANGRAM'S SAM COUPÉ FORUM

Loads of letters have poured into the Sam Forum this month, many on the subject of compatibility, and four people wrote in with a helpful listing which should help improve SAM compatibility with Speccy games! So, a very big hand for Dave Wood from Cleethorpes, Ersin Mustafa from London, Colin Henderson from Blanefield and Steve Summerskill from West Yorkshire who have all provided this listing...

First you'll need to get hold of a Speccy. On the Speccy type SAVE "48K ROM" CODE 0,16384 — this saves the Speccy ROM to tape. Then go back to the Coupé and type in the following program: 100 SAM COUPE ZX BASIC LOADER 120 CLEAR 49999: LOAD "" CODE 65536 130 FOR A + 50000 TO 50008 140 READ N: POKE A,N 150 NEXT A 160 CALL 50000 190 DATA 62,163,211,250,62,4,211,252,199 RUN this program and play your 48K ROM tape. When the ROM is loaded the screen wipes and there you have it-the faithful 1982 SINCLAIR RESEARCH screen. Be warned - the Coupé keyboard now operates just like a rubber-keyed 48K. So to LOAD type J and then SYMBOL PP. To delete type SHIFT 0. The Speccy games may play slightly faster. If you have a disk drive change line 120 to: 120 CLEAR 49999: LOAD "48K ROM" 65536,120000 And then SAVE this program to disc. Save the ROM to the address 65535,120000. If you save the program with a LINE 10 command and then reload it, it will autorun. Simple!

I have managed to load games published by Ocean. First, load the emulator program, and select the patch program by pressing P. Next choose OPTION 4 on the menu (it's just like Pokemania!), then play the tape from the beginning. Using this method I have tried Batman - the Movie, Chase HQ, The Untouchables, Op Thunderbolt and Rainbow Islands and they all load! Of course, it's the 48K version which loads. Colin Chapman, Selkirk, Scotland. The feeling I get from all your Coupé letters is the same feeling I had years ago when CRASH began - the excitement of a new machine and all the possibilities you're exploring! Keep your thoughts and tips coming to: NEWSFIELD, LLOYD'S SAM FORUM, CRASH, LUDLOW, SHROPSHIRE SY8 1JW.

NEWS UPDATE

It looks like Thalamus' Delta Charge! (reviewed last month) was the first Speccy game ever released which actually made sure it was SAM Coupé compatible. Cool History in the making, or what?

Lerm Software has announced two programs for the SAM Coupé: the SAM Assembler and the SAMtape.
The Assembler is designed to be easy to use, featuring a full-screen editor so you type in your machine code just like a word processor. It's also quick and lives in the bottom half of the Coupé's memory leaving you 32K for source code. The Assembler costs £8.99 and Lerm is already working on an updated

The SAMtape is designed for tape to disk transfer of your fave Speccy software onto the Coupé, working effectively like a Multiface. It costs £8.99 and full details on both can be obtained from: Lerm Software, 11 Beaconsfield Close, Whitely Bay, Tyne And Wear NE25 9UW. Special SAM Coupé software coming soon includes: Football Director II from D&H Games, Tasword the word processor; a trio of games from Players, and MGT have teamed up with US Gold and

Ocean to make sure all recent releases, such as Turbo OutRunand Batman — the Movie are fully compatible. Details on all soon. Another SAM Coupé fanzine has been launched — the latest one is called RGB Coupé and comes aut every month featuring software reviews, hardware news, articles and features all about the Coupé. Information from: RGB Coupé, 12 Oakfield Avenue, Birstall, Leicester LE4 3DQ. Thanks to eager beaver readers

The Campaign For Mangram To Get A Shiny New Desk is not doing as well as one would have hoped. The fund has raised the paltry sum of £00.04p (Those Who Must Be Obeyed didn't let me keep last month's £40 prize). Four measly pence, and that's only from raiding the change pocket on the drinks machine. Any Letter of the Month bribes... erm, contributions would be most welcome. And so, onto the forum answered from ye olde tattye desk. This month's Letter of the Month winner is Patricia Reeve from Petersfield who wins £40 worth of software! You too could be winner by penning a great letter, send your missives to: NEWSFIELD, LLOYD MANGRAM'S FORUM, CRASH, LUDLOW, SHROPSHIRE SY8 1JW.

SQUASHED GRANNY

Dear Lloyd That's it, I'm fed up and going out to shoot myself in the left foot as soon as poss. Here am I, a reasonably intelligent and mature lady, who could tell you the chemical symbol for silver without looking it up, knows what 'strange' and 'charming' particles are (do you?) and never breaks the yokes of eggs. I can drive lorries, answer ten questions on 'Mastermind' and find a pair of matching socks in my son's room _quite a competent lady you will surely agree. Well, that was yesterday. Today I am totally deflated, squashed flatter than a bug on a bat and with zero confidence. Reason? You — or rather you and your adventure game Karyssia. Let me explain, for two (ish) years I've had a 48K Speccy, which was given to me with a couple of games. They weren't

Let me explain, for two (ISII) years I've had a 48K Speccy, which was given to me with a couple of games. They weren't very interesting games so I didn't bother with that side of things and got on with trying to learn how the programming worked. Well, recently two (ish) years of being poked and pushed about took it's toll and the Speccy announced its retirement, so I cast about and pretty soon found a 128+2 (yahooo!!) with quite a few games to boot. Some of them were quite good, so I started trying to win, and got hooked.... that was in February.

Two editions of CRASH later, and about 40+ games further along I hawe yet to win a single game! Karyssia Part One is typical of my non-progress. All I managed to do there is find loinmar, pinch the imayor's goodies (not a very homest hero are we!) and get lost, wandering around thee woods meeting uncooperative brokers, rude bowmen, llocked doors and dangerouss lakes. Then you lot show me lhow it's done on CRASH (Alpril) and I can see how dim II've been. I guess you need a special way of thinking, which I clearly do not possess. Yours, One squashed granny. Patricia Reeve, Petersfield GU32 2HL.

That special way of thinking is known as Being A Little On The Potty Side. This state of mind usually takes a few years of rigourous games playing to develop, though DJ Nicko achieved it in a surprisingly short amount of time. You are obviously far too clever, anyone who can find a matching pair of socks must be, so here have £40 worth of software, just a bit more games playing should help! LM

WHERE THEY GONE?

Dear Lloyd The reason for my writing was to give this list of games that were previewed between may 1989 and February 1990 and until April have not been reviewed. Please explain what happened

May - Outrun Europa June - Nightbreed August — Garfield: Winter's Tail, Lone Wolf: The Mirror of

to them. They are:

Death, Bloodwych October - Vendetta, International Drugs Bust November — Beach Volley December — Crossbow: The Legend of William Tell January — Crackdown, Snoopy (this even has had a solution), Darius+ February -- Emlyn Hughes

Arcade Quiz, Cyberball Will they appear? Will they not?

Andrew S Collier, Bolton BL3

Right, Outrun Europa eventually became Turbo Outrun, Nightbreed is due for September, Garfield we haven't seen, Lone Wolf has been delayed indefinitely, Bloodwych is here, Vendetta is 'soon', dunno about Drugs Bust, Beach Volley was cancelled for being a bit crap. Crossbow_dunno, Crackdown is out!, Snoopy and Darius Plus haven't been seen, Emlyn Hughes' Arcade Quiz is a while off and Cyberball is out! Satisified?

FINDING HISTORY

Dear Lloyd

Knowing how clever you are (ha ha) I need your help in locating some games. Back in 1984, May issue 4 of CRASH you had printed a guide to Spectrum games, I am trying to find out if I can still get hold of these games.

1. Inheritance by Simon Hessel 48K Spec

Great Britain Ltd by Simon Hessel 48K Spec

3. 1984 by Incentive 48K Spec 4. Millionaire by Incentive 48K

At one time or another I have played these games, but six vears on, I don't have any of these, can you tell me, is there anywhere I can get hold of

Oh clever one please tell me. Martin Rollett, Leeds LS1 2HQ.

1984 and Millionaire can still be obtained from Incentive Software, Zephyr One, Calleva Park, Aldermaston, Berkshire RG7 40W. Haven't got a clue about the other two _ can any readers help? LM

PRINTER PLEA

Dear Lloyd I have a Citizen 120-D dot matrix printer and a +3 Speccy. My problem is that I can't get LPRINT to work. I use the Artist II (on +3 disk) and a Kempston mouse to draw, etc. but to print a screen I have to SAVE it, reset the +3, and COPY it, with: Load "Filename" screen #: copy which doesn't print the screen very well. What interface do I need, or do I need a program? The cable I'm using at the moment is plugged straight into the back of +3, in the PRINTER socket. S Wilson, Warndon WR4 9JH.

I'm afraid I can't be of much help here, but anyone with some advice for Mr Wilson can write in...

WANT, WANT, WANT

Dear Lloyd

I get:

1. Speccy +3 2. Cassette lead

3. +3 disks

4. Light pen

You get: 1. Educational Software (under 4's)

2. Fab game ideas

3. Stunning graphics

4. Sound for games

NOT SO CONSOLE CRAZY

Dear Lloyd On the 25th December 1989. I received a Sega Master System with three games. The old Speccy was put away, and most of the games were sold (sniff, sniff). I enjoyed this new console, but after a while the games became boring, and I had to fork out £30 to buy a new game. Soon I grew bored of that, and became depressed. I decided to go deep into the loft, and recover the two year old Speccy and the few games I had. I wired it up and loaded up R-Type: the enjoyment of games immediately came back. With only eight games I spent £1.70 on my old mag (which had changed somewhat) CRASH. Now with four new wholesome games, I played for ages. The problem now was what to do with my Sega, the loft found the answer. The moral of this story is stuff expensive consoles, when you can have a Speccy. Simon Jones, Eastleigh SO5

Exactly _ there's more gameplay in Speccy games than you'll ever find in a console! LM

BOREDOM RELIEF

Dear Lloyd I would like to praise you on the formula for the mag. While I was on the dole last year, it was nice to be able to buy a mag plus games for one price, not only that but four games which help relieve the boredom of staying at home with no money for anything else. Now I am back in work and can buy new games, I still support my favourite mag because of the good selection of articles, the silliness of Jetman (which has a cult following around my works) and the very helpful tips and cheats section. Far too often and boring, and somewhat biased in their outlook.

other mags are too expensive

Keep up the good work, and once again I thank you on my, and many others, behalf who I know are still on the dole but can still enjoy computing thanks to yourselves. Yours forever a fan Colin Skilton, Dorking RH4 2QD.

Thanks, it makes it all worthwhile when you get a letter like this. And now this month, should anyone be going hungry at the mo, there's a chewy bar too! In the future we hope to be cover-mounting Range Rovers for people who can't afford British Rail's expensive fares. Oh, and I've passed your query about the game Rockfall onto Ian Collier, the author, who has coincidentally penned the next letter. LM

ROCKFALL 2?

Dear Lloyd I'm writing this letter because I'm glad you liked my game Rockfall. My brother thinks it would be a good idea to have a Rockfall 2 with levels sent in by readers. Do you?

(suggested guide lines:) a. each level to be drawn on squared paper inside a rectangle measuring 64 squares across, 32 squares down

b. each level should be surrounded by outer walls and may contain any graphic you see in the game, but there should be exactly one main character one exit. Suggested backgrounds are i) all grass ii) black iii) grass with a random scattering of rocks (what a lot of numbering systems!) c. I don't want to be a judge! Ian Collier, Oxford OX1 4AW.

Yes _ why not? If you've got any ideas for a Rockfall 2 game, send them in and we'll take a look. I.M

Well, that's it for this month. and what an interesting bunch of letters they are! Remember, be outrageous, controversial and intelligent if you want to win £40!

with the England team. Players can select their squad from 22 different footballers such as John Barnes or Bryan Robson, and take the team through to win the World Cup — just like England will in a couple of months (Hem, hem).

FORGOTTEN AGAIN!

 Following Dark Century (see previews) Titus' next project on the Spectrum will be Fire And Forget II. As the driver of an all powerful combat vehicle you chase and blow the socks off a vicious gang of terrorists. But this isn't any old vehicle you've got your hands on, because with a flip of a switch you take to the air and fly around. This all sounds great fun, expect a preview very soon.

BUILDING LARKS, AHOY!

 Ever fancied building your own town or city, well very soon you'll be able to do just that!

Infogrames' Sim City is coming to the Speccy. You become a Mayor/City Planner who must keep all of the people happy all of the time, and so builds plenty of houses, recreational areas and parks, but must keep crime and pollution down. But if the population isn't already restless enough, Mother Nature occasionally takes a hand with earthquakes, tidal waves and various other natural disasters. It you fancy yourself as a bit of a dab hand at the DIY building game watch out for Sim City from Infogrames very soon.

ARCADE SNIPPETS

■ US Gold have signed up Capcom's UN Squadron, the one or two player horizontally scrolling shoot-'em-up battle against crime cartel Project 4.

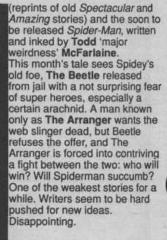

Pick a character out of three, pilot a craft out of three, then destroy the heavily defended base! Heavy, man...

Activision are busy bees too: hot on the heels of Ninja Spirit, Dragon Breed and R-Type II comes Atomic Robo Kid. Based on the Irem coin-op, it gets you playing a small robotic hero who must survive wave after wave of robophobic creatures. Where's the spirit of glasnost?

more strippy delights...

The Spectacular Spider-Man Marvel, 70p Monthly

From bats to creepy crawlies this month! Everyone's favourite web slinger, Mr Parker. It's amazing, the amount of comics available: Spectacular Spider-Man, Amazing Spider-Man, Web Of Spider-Man and Marvel Tales

ROBOCOP Marvel, £1.05, Monthly

Movie Robocop 2 is in production, and in the meantime the further adventures of the No1 cop of the future are here. OCP's dream city is almost complete and Old Detroit is demolished to make way for Delta City. While the skyline changes one thing remains the same: half a ton of titanium steel with a human brain and computer-fast reactions patrols the streets. Robocop is after Cybex, cybernetic genius designer of Delta City, now insane. Robocop isn't the only one who wants Cybex mysterious Darkstone has brainwashed an assassin-for-hire and sent him to Cybex's lair. Problems for both Robocop and the assassin appear in the shape of cybernetic apes. One huge specimen captures Cop and well read it yourself! The comic brilliantly captures the grim and brooding atmosphere of Old Detroit - I just hope the second cinematic outing is as good. Script writer Alan Grant of 2000 AD fame, along with Lee Sullivan and Kim DeMulder, has come up with a winner.

Sorry, folks, CRASH is discontinuing its Classified Section. or in an effort to back ELSPA, the European Leisure Software Publishers' Association, and FAST, Federation Against Software Theft, in their very worthwhile fight against software piracy (grrrrl), NEWSFIELD has regrettably decided that too many ads which are potentially peddling pirated tapes are getting onto the pages of your fave mag.

It's difficult for us to safely judge the honest intentions of an ad, and while we know 99% of CRASH readers are nice anti-piracy kids and don't want to hurt their feelings, we're sure you'd all agree to the motto better safe than sorry. We all want the software industry to continue giving us the great product we enjoy now, and piracy threatens its existence!

Small software houses and other legitimate businesses, who have up to now made use of the classifieds are invited to ring Neil and Sarah on 0584 875851 to find out how little a small ad in CRASH can cost. Make that call, do business!

INTERNATIONAL 3D TENNIS

The programming team with the silly name, Sensible Software are putting the finishing touches to a new tennis game called International 3D Tennis, with a release from Polace any moment now.

Look at the screenshot and you think the game verges slightly towards the primitive: "Weren't little matchstick men graphics left behind on the ark?", you wonder. But not

WIMBLEDON FORTNIGHT, AHOY!!

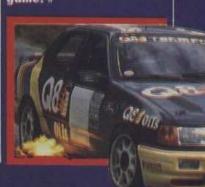

These are no ordinary matchstick men, these are completely skill vector graphics which move accurately. Seeing as how Chris and Jops of Sensible Software are here at this very moment — let's ask them why they chose to use vectors rather than sprites... "It's a lot easier than using sprites — the tennis court can be viewed from any perspective, absolutely any — there are infinite views of the court and so the players change perspective and angles in relation to the court. It would be impossible to create enough sprites — and besides, there are 69 frames of animation." You can play against a friend or the computer and there are four skill levels to choose from: amateur, semi professional, professional and ace. International 3D Tennis takes you to 72 tournaments in all — and you'll be playing on different surfaces including clay, cement, grass and, erm, carpet. Pass the strawberries and cream, somebody.

PLAYING J.J.P.S.

Oh deary, deary, me. I don't seem to be having much luck in the way of cars lately. So far I'd crunched my front wing by backing into an invisible bollard, and now I've had an accident with a BMW of all things, a real CRASH SMASH! Ho ho! Don't try this at home kids, it works out quite expensive! Never mind, no one was hurt and cars can be fixed (just!).

There are plenty of tips this month to keep you on your toes. For all strategy fans who think they're hard done by in the tips and POKEs department I have hundreds (well almost) of multiface POKEs that transform Laser Squad and Ancient Battles into something quite different. There are also tips on Strider and picturesque maps of Dan Dare III and Garfield - Winters Tail. And don't forget to check out the crucial Pokemania on the cover cassette for all your pulsating POKEs.

YOUR STRATEGY SOLUTIONS

I know that all you strategy fans out there think you're not catered for too well these days. You never get any POKEs or tips on your favourite games — but now that's all set to change!

Laser Squad and Ancient

Battles are two of the most popular strategy games of the moment, well in Wayne Smith's eyes anyway. If you have a Multiface these POKEs from Wayne are what you're looking

(N=Number from 0-255)
First man start address is 54178,127

54191,N = Skill
54192,N = Close combat
54193,N = Strength

Laser Squad

NOTES: 1. If you increase the number of AP's you have, it's more expensive for shots. So it's not really worth it.

 Don't buy armour at the beginning, save your credits for weapons and ammo and use the POKEs.

Second man start address is 54218,127

Third man start address is 54258,127

Fourth man start address is 54298,127

Fifth man start address is 54338,127

Sixth man start address is 54378,127 Seventh man start address is 54418,127 Eighth man start address is 54458,127

It doesn't matter which scenario you play, the addresses are around the same place, you just get more or less men.

Ancient Battles
These POKEs are for the Assyrians (late empire).

GARFIELD -WINTER'S TAIL

The fat lasagne eater, who drives you mad when you see him stuck to someone's car window, is back. Those of you who could get past level one of this groovy game could probably do with a few tips on what to do. The chocolate factory level has been tipped and mapped by M. CASTLE MASTER

No complete solution or map for this new Freescape game yet, but here are a few tips from Martin Lloyd of Wirral to keep you going.

1. In the wilderness use a stone and fire it at the box to the left of the drawbridge, then go into the castle. (An alternative to this is to let the drawbridge down, stand on the edge and fire at the box again: you'll be catapulted over the castle wall and onto the roof of the church! - Nick).

2. When in the court yard, shoot the flag on the end of the long flag pole. The screen flashes and a little line on the ceiling appears. Shoot that - it's a spirit. It disappears and everything stops

3. Walk up to the well and examine it. You'll get the key for the wizard's hut which is in the wilderness, by the castle.

 Still in the courtyard there are some stables, walk behind them and there's a secret door.

5. When in the hot baths, shoot the black bit which is floating on the water: the screen stops flashing. Now walk up to the box by the door and examine the white handle, it'll drain the water from the pool and a passage underneath the diving board appears

When in the great hall examine the fire place and find a message. 7. In the kitchen, walk into the fire place and find yourself be in the larder (loadsafoodl).

DIZZY 3 COINS

I've had letter after letter moaning that my map of this classic Dizzy game hasn't got all 30 gold coins on it. I KNOW! Old Dalsy isn't too pleased either as she demands that you find all 30 before you can complete the game. So here, especially for all you moaners is a description of the position of every coin from Stephen Beicher (excuse me!) from Reading. Seven in the castle

1. By the portcullis. 2. Entrance hall - in the top right hand corner, behind the second railing.

3. East wing. 4. West wing.

5. The mantlepiece above Denzil's head.

6. Castle staircase.

7. Starting place - this can only be found after the troll in the deserted mine has been seen. Four in the east

8. By the Dizzy Hawk, the guard

9. In between the two crates on the docks and pier.

10. On the crafty cloud above the four way warehouse, jump right onto the roof and then jump left. 11. Jump down between the green and the purple crate into the amazing illusion screen. Nine in the tree house

UKDEKKHINYKERKSYUM

- 12. To the right of the bottomless well, behind the leaves.
- 13. Next to the railing, by the lift control.
- Base of tree house.
 The right window of Daisy's
- hut. 16. Behind some railing in
- Denzil's pad.
- 17. Below the meeting hall.
 18. Stay on the same platform as above but go right to the end of it.
 Jump left onto the long jump cloud.
- 19. In front of Daisy's parents' hut.
- 20. Behind a piece of railing by the bottomless well. Eight in the west
- 21. On a cloud in the complex cloud route.
- 22. On a cloud near the volcano top.

23. On a cloud in more 'orrible clouds.

24. On the top of the active volcano.

25. Behind some leaves in the large oak tree.

26. In the deserted mine. 27. In the dragon's lair (wrong

28. Underneath the table in Daisy's prison.

Two in the strange world 29. In the church.

30. In the market square.

KARYSSIA (PART THREE)

Have you been following the solutions to the Karyssia games from the Powertape? If you have you'll be wanting to know the solution to the final part on E, e, e (the guards in this passage are not here now), get doubleswords (your status should now be outstanding and energetic), w, w, w, n, e, n, n, n, e, u (there would be a guard here had the bell not rung), w, s, get silver key, n, e, d, w, s, s, w, n, u (there would normally be a guard here), s, w, n (reading the books will provide valuable clues: that Karyssia fights with magic swords obviously the swords of the Starfighters - and that the Star Pendant is probably connected with these. The Book on Cabalism tells you that the Star Pendant was a cabalistic amulet but the spell has been lost. Remember the spell on the pentagram in part two ... ?), unlock door, open door, e, get skill, cast skill, get pendant, get diamond key, w, s, w, w (the other stairway is just as suitable), s, e, n, get invisibility spell, get bless spell (the illusion spell is a red herring), s, e, n, cast invisibility (the other six elite guards will not be fooled by this spell), w, n, kill Wyvern (this can only be done a: if your status is at its maximum and b: before it is fully grown), cast bless spell, smash orb, n, examine diamond key, door, Enxara Aloxia (the key indirectly opens the door), n, throw knife (else she will shoot and kill you), cast levitation (the only way out of the flames; you must have the floatstone at this point), Karyssia Astara Ordania (this is the cabalistic spell which affects the glowing swords.

NB. Swords Astara Ordania is also available), kill Karyssia (at last you get a hand-to-hand fight, which you will win if you are a master of combat and energetic).

I loved this game in the arcade. Well, I loved it at last year's PC Show arcade anyway — because it was free! Here are pictures of all the nasty things you encounter in the game and a few tips to help you bash them! These are from lan Turner of Goostrey.

BLOODWYCH

Just a few tipetts for this game. I had a bit of trouble with it myself, but that was probably because it wouldn't load! This should solve a few of your problems with it.

When recruiting try to get two warriors and two wizards.

 Never attack other champions as this is a waste of time and food since they won't attack you.
 Instead, follow the tip of recruit: rob and dismiss.

3. Food is essential later on in the game. So conserve it by eating as little as possible. Try to keep you

I food level at half full or less. 4. Any monsters you can communicate with will either help or trade with you. Warriors are generally better communicators than the wizards. Never try communicating with a group of monsters, monsters with more than two legs, monsters with no legs - or girls (common sense really!).

5. Rather than buying cheap spells, try saving up and getting + the more expensive ones, they're essential on later levels.

6. When you open the first door or the serpent level you'll find that the second door is locked. None of your keys will open the door, but make a note of the three green pads. Move over all three and then leave a champion on one of them, sit on the second pad yourself. Now click on the door and it should open.

7. Here's a list of useful spells...green: paralyse, good for the price; compass: one you will definitely need; warpower: gives you the strength of ten; formwall: builds a wall for you; yellow:

antimage, alchemy and spelltap, useful against heavy magic users; summon: calls up a monster to fight for you; vivify: kills your . enemies; disrupt: another spell to kill your erlemies; red: fireballs, firepath and blaze; blue: conceal and vanish.

8. Certain spells like the summon and firepath can't be used on the enemy directly, they have to be laid as traps. Never face the monsters you summon as they'll attack you.

9. When you find the stairs leading down from the maze you'll automatically be turned back on the sixth and seventh step. When you get there, turn round and face the opposite direction.

POKEMANIA

I bet the question on everybody's lips is 'Will Pokemania ever cease getting better and better every month?'. Well if that isn't the question on your lips it ruddy well should be! Graham

'TURBAN Mason has come up with a wobbly scrolling message this month, as well as his ultragroovy multiface screen. Here are the goods...

Sonic Boom - Infinite lives Hopping Mad - Infinite balls American Turbo King - Infinite

F16 Fighting Falcon - Lots of ammo and planes Spherical - Invincible

DAN DARE III

Cor! A map and solution to the store stage of that hot new game, Dan Dare III. Good old Terry Hill from Newhaven has been busy at his Speccy to bring you this lot. Store Stage

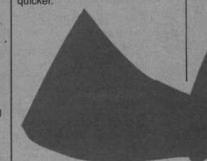

When you begin, shoot all of the nasties using the rapid fire gun. Then go straight across to the big Mekon and hover just inside the entrance about half way up: he now has a big problem shooting you. To kill him, use the rapid fire or power shooter.

Access the stores terminal and buy 99 bouncing bombs, three nukes and any extra lives you may need.

Don't top up the ammo because there's a new plasma rifle in the transporter room.

Use the bouncing bombs and the plasma rifle to clear the room. Teleporting: When you first start, only use teleports when Dan's energy is high. Try to follow earlier, smaller squares rather than attempting to keep Dan in larger squares. You should arrive quicker.

ong, long ago mankind lived in fear. Paranola ruled them by day and horrific nightmares made sleep a dread by night. The cause was a three headed creature calted Mogul with fantastic evil magical power who lived hidden away in its kingdom from where it inflitrated man's mind. As humanity cowered, a brave hero called Devoton did battle with the beast and banished it to another dimension. For many years mankind slept soundly. But now the nightmares have returned with a ferocity that banishes everyone to their homes lest evil strike them. Morgul is affecting them even from the other dimension.

even from the other dimension.
Only one man has the courage to stand up to his tears and attempt to once again banish Morgul from the lives of mortals:
Turrican, skilled soldier of fortune, athletic and heavily armoured.

Turrican is set over five different worlds and 13 levels. Fight through creature-infested landscapes using your athletic skills and arsenal of weaponry — standard pulse-rifle, lightning beam, grenades, mines and energy lines. The last three are limited, so stocks must be regularly replenished and weapon power-ups collected.

Collision with the weird denizens of Morgul's realm lose you vital energy. Make use of the gyroscope mode (three times per life) and turn into an impervious and destructive ball. Extra weaponry can be collected as well as diamonds, 300 of which provide an extra life. Trust Probe to come up with the goods: the sprites are colourful, nicely drawn

NICK Wow, it' a long time since I've seen this much offensive weaponry in a game!! Turrican is pure blast-'em-up action all the way with a wonderfully detailed main sprite blasting the living daylights out of the enemy hordes. My personal favourite is the Allen world which is obviously inspired by the Giger-esque monsters from the Ridley Scott movie. The backdrops are as colourful and Wow, It' a long time since I've seen this much varied as the character sprites. Turrican is a no holds barred shoot-'em-up that no joystick mangling fan should miss.

and animated. Turrican himself looks well hard a range of weaponry to make Rambo jealous. Creatures and backgrounds are varied — there's nothing I hate more in a game that the same sprite being used over and over again! End of level monsters and Morgul himself are great. All in all Probe and Rainbow Arts have produced one if the best Speccy games seen this year. Just wait for the sequel Apprentice.

plumber's lot - in plumber's lot — in this game — is not a happy one, Pipe Mania' sees you in the guise of an unfortunate plumber who must construct a continuous pipeline on the playing grid through which the ever-flowing green Flooz is channeled. To the side of the mid you're provided with a channeled. To the side of the grid you're provided with a starting point and a dispenser loaded with differing pieces of pipe. The idea is to set down a preset number of piping before the Floozreaches you. You only have a head start of a few seconds, so building is a matter of some urgency!

Pipe Mania has three different playing modes: basic one player, expert one player and if a friend is to hand competitive two player. The training mode for all three options is the best to three options is the hest to start with as the Flooz flows much slower. If you set a piece of pipe down that won't fit you can always 'bomb' it, though it takes time to replace and you lose 50 points; if you find the next piece in the dispenser doesn't fit, the best thing to do is set it in a different place and try to head the Flooz flow towards it. Forward thinking counts for a lot in this game.

To end the level fit the set amount of piping together and watch the Flooz go, simple as that — but on later levels things become more hectic. One way sections pop up (the Flooz can only head in the direction of the arrows), and sections appear into which you must guide the finished pipeline.

Indestructible obstacles force you to go round them. If you get a long way and die, a helpful password system allows you to get back into the action.

And Pipe Mania is cartainly action all the way: amazing how a simple idea can create a mega-playable game (as in Kiax too). The graphics are very simple, but graphics are very simple, but as there aren't any beefy character spriles charging round the screen this doesn't really matter. The sound livens up the game no end with a great tune and stacks of sound effects. Whether plumbing strategy is your scene or not, Pipe Mania will get your adrenaiin Flooz flowing!

MARK 91%

NICK Pipe Mania is wickedly addictive. Once you start playing you just won't be able to put it down. It's one of those games that is really simple, but still catches you Pipe Mania is wickedly addictive. Once you start out. Just make a pipeline as long as you can, using the pieces of pipe given to you in random order. The trick is to plan ahead, knowing exactly where you want to stick a four way mega pipe with triple bend. The graphics are very simple, nothing to shout about at all, but the sound is more exciting with a groovy tune and plenty of spot effects. Sheer playability will keep you busy for a long long time.

Tengen/Domark # £9.99/£14.99 #

ccording to Domark Kisx is a collection of three same-coloured tiles stacked either vertically, horizontally or diagonally. The aim of this game is simple: create the set number of Klaxs on each level to move onto the next.
Before the fun begins the player is given the choice to start on either the level one with three drops and no bonus, level six with four drops and 100000 points bonus or level eleven with five drops and 200000 point bonus. You're then whisked to the play screen, a long vertical stretch of play area and five 'bins'. You control a flipper and must catch the differently coloured tiles as they roll towards you.

Up to five tiles can be held

Up to five tiles can be held on the flipper at one time, though the idea is to sling them into the bins as fast as NICK Connect Four taken into the 90s! Klax is simply addictive with lightning reflexes a must as play gets faster and faster, and wrong decisions become disastrous. An amazing amount of colour is used, with three different borders and only a tiny bit of clash when the really well animated tiles roll towards you.

What makes Klax so addictive is the sheer simplicity of it. You get so frustrated when the computer decides to send down every colour but the one you want to complete your super cross which will get you millions of points, you just have to have another go!

them into the bins as test as possible. But watch it: unless you create Klaxs the bins till very quickly and the game ends; drop more than your allowed number of tiles, and it's over too. If you think the first couple of screens are easy, just wait until the tiles increase in speed and number and the amount of Klaxs needed to continue rockets up. Panic situations are all too common, and a cool head is needed: 'throw' the tiles back up the screen for a few seconds if a breathing space is needed.

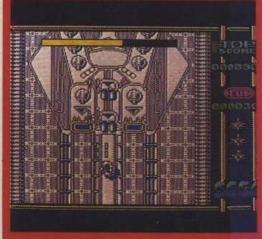

It takes a lot of practice to avoid quick termination, but this doesn't detract from the sheer playability — indeed it adds to long term addictivity. If you're into puzzle/arcade games (and even if you're not) you'll kick yourself if you don't take a look at this latest Domark release.

Activision

nother obscure Sega coin-op licence joins the growing rank produced by Activision over the past few months. Be the brave pilot chosen to fly the most sophisticated piece of firepower. Each level ends with a mechanical monstrosity to destroy: a top-of-screen meter gives the amount of shots needed to destroy it. That achieved, you're presented with your hit rate and bonus points and moved to the next battleground.—Sonic Boom

NICK Yes it's one of my favourite game styles, a shoot'em-up, and of course totally unoriginal. It plays exactly like Slap Fight and Scramble Spirits: fly around the screen shooting everything coming towards you, collect the occasional power up icon to add extra super weapons or extra lives — you know the kind of thing.

Small, neat sprites and highly detailed backgrounds all in the same monochrome colour plus OK sound with the usual 'boom' effects and a tune on the title screen all add up to a predictable production line clone.

Waves of aircraft rocket down the screen at you, ground-based gun turrets and SAM sites blast away — weave to avoid them while trying to hit them with your rather ineffective weaponry. Thank god, some destroyed plane formations drop parachutes: rad ones bestow spirit jets (a bit like the outriders from Scramble Spirif), whilst yellow ones supposedly increase Astro Marine Corps. I haven't enjoyed playing a game so much for ages. There is just so much going on, you wouldn't think you were playing on a Spectrum. AMC comes in two parts, each as mind blowingly playable as the last. The graphics in both are out of this world. Large, animated sprites fill every corner of the game, packed full of colour without any clash at all - a masterpiece of programming skill. Amazing, but there's more: full colour, animated backgrounds, codies of sound effects and a fee tapping tune.

Collecting the capsules that drop from the sky as you run along can have a variety of results. Some give you super weapons that kill everything in sight, but others release even worse nasties to nibble at your feel! AMC is one game that I will be playing for some time. Go on, be a devil and buy a copy - you won't be disappointed.

Dynamic ■ £9.95/£14.95 ■

aving entered into orbit round the planet Dendar you are woken from hypersleep. You are a member of the AMC (Astro Marine Corps, armed with a heavy duty assault rifle, and are about to be dropped onto the planet to fight the diabolical Deathbringers.

The Deathbringers are a gang of interplanetary pirates who wreak havoc wherever they land. The game spilts into two sections. The first has you yomping up hill and down dale in search of the Deathbringers' ship and is played in a left to right horizontally scroll with plenty of deathbringing creatures after your hide. An Astro Marine support ship will occasionally drop supply cannisters to you, containing grenades, energy, shields and extra lives.

Once the end of level creature called Krauer is overcome, and you've gained secret access to the pirate ship, it's onto load two which takes you to the Deathbringers' planet. Your free passage to their hideout is not popular, and bloody battle ensues. This time your target is the Great Allen King, a huge pseudo-robot who breathes fire, and tough to kill.

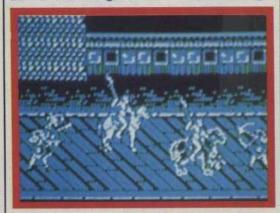

The most impressive part of AMC is the scrolling: multi directional movement is incorporated, giving a great feel of reality. It's a pity the colourful, but splodgy sprites aren't in the same league. The game is quite playable, the challenge is tough, but not frustratingly so. I just wish that as much attention had been payed to the looks as to the technical wizardry.

DYNASTY WARS

hina, 184 AD: an unhappy time. A blood feud between the Han Clan and the Kai Clan has escalated into all-out war. The Hans are the good guys, but there are only four of their warriors left — and from there on boredom is just around the corner. The thing that strikes you first is the lack of colour — all graphics are monochromatic. The result is that the animated sprites are disastrously lost in the backdrops. Maybe Tiertex should be recommended to the army, they'd do a great lob camouflaging vehicles!

NICK Dynasty Wars is one of those games that suffers from excellent presentation but has little playability. There are some really well drawn screens of the heroes you control, and great graphics in between the levels. The actual game sprites and backgrounds are another matter though: they're small, undetailed and all in cyan monochrome - yukki

You have to strain your eyes to see what is going on, but you might as well not bother because it looks more like a circus act than a war! The horse you ride moves the same speed backwards as it does forwards, and when you try to shoot at someone the arrows or bullets go straight through them! A dire implementation of a coin-op shoot-'em-up variant.

you're one of them! Choose which of the four you play, each with equally silly names: Shang Fei, Lui Bei, Kuan Yu and Shao Yun. Now mount your trusty steed and lay into the Kai hordes with your R-Type inspired weapon (le the longer the button is held the stronger the blow). Six horizontally scrolling levels of enemy troops armed with lances, swords and bows await you, all punctuated by end-of-level

Kal Generals to defeat.

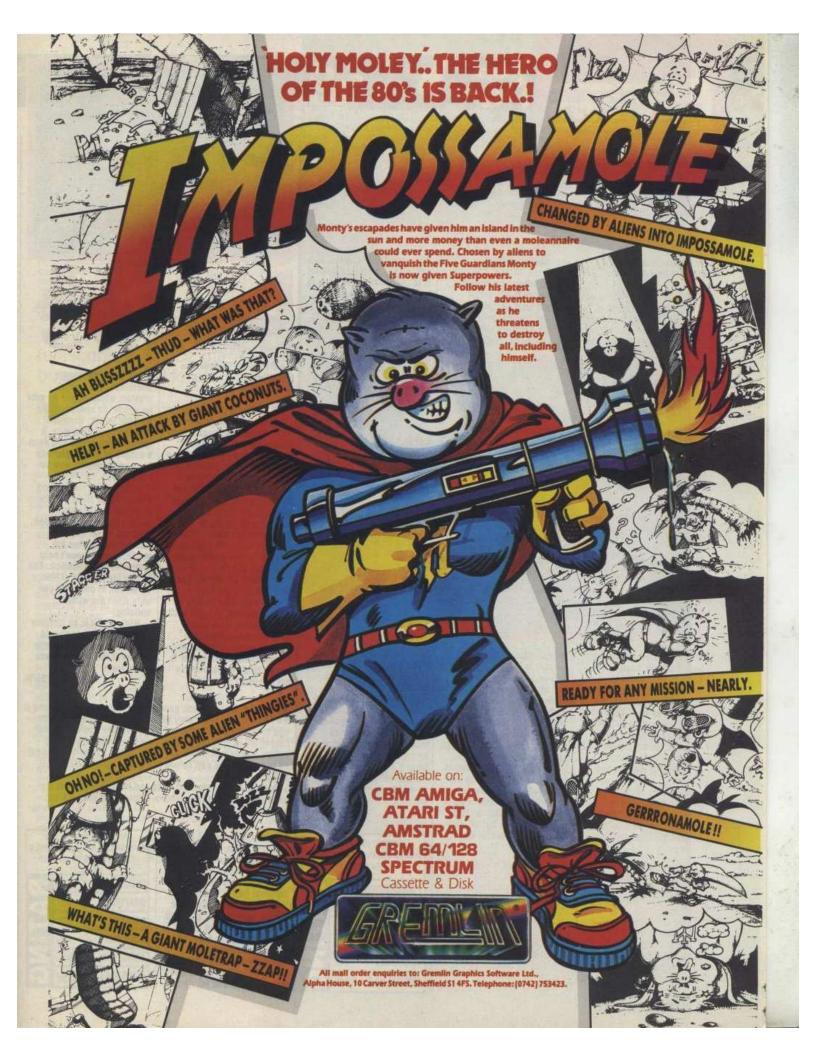

Dynasty Wars kicks off with a promising start: a good intro tune and static portraits of the heroes. But

The scrolling judders along and just adds to the 'why bother' feeling that emerges after thirty seconds play.

EXT WEEK Nasa launches perhaps the most sophisticated instrument ever sent into space. The Hubble Space Tele-scope — named after an American pioneer of cosmology promises to revolutionise astronomy and our perception of the universe. High above the distorting influence of our atmosphere, Hubble's 94-inch eye will have the clearest picture of the universe we have had

In purely numerical terms, the telescope will increase the volume of the known universe by a factor of 100. Astronomers are expecting a corresponding quantum leap in their understanding.

The idea for a telescope in was first mooted in the 1920s. Our view of the universe from Earth's surface is hampered by the atmosphere: it acts as a blanket which filters out the full range of radiation emit-ted by objects in space. Only certain wavelengths, specifically, visable light, part of the infra-red and some radio frequencies, can get through.

'In a sense all the images we have had up until now are 'dirty' ones," says Professor Malcolm Longair, director of Edinburgh's Royal Observatory. "Atmospheric turbulence also causes problems. Even gravity leads to distortions of telescope optics. During the early years of the Space Age, unexplored regions of the spectrum were eagerly investigated with satellites. Optical astronomers advantage of being able to do research from the ground decided that if they were going to have a telescope it should be a biggie, a 3-metre mirror operated by astronauts. Throughout the 1970s, Nasa lobbied hard for this "Large Space Telescope", using all it had at its command, Astronomers who have built the scientific instruments have 'guaranteed" access to the telescope for 200 hours. Jakobsen himself is interested in primordial clouds of gas created when the universe was a tenth of its present age. "We do not know whether they are still around today, or whether they evaporated or coalesced into galaxies

"We really don't know what's out there," Peter Jakobsen says. "The best discoveries are the ones we don't know any-thing about." The same philoso-phy is echoed by the project's decade, adding a bill of $7 million per month while it was kept in storage. During congressional hearings to secure additional funds, administrator James Beggs tried to impress the political keepers of the purse by claiming the Hubble telescope was the eighth won-der of the world. "It ought to be at that price," a Congressman was heard to retort.

Such delays and spiralling costs led to criticisms that it is an idea behind its time. The wasn't." Indeed, astronomers class this part of the spectrum as the "FM band" because of known objects, scientists will have a clearer picture of their temperature, physical and chemical properties. Hubble's technological superiority is a constant refrain in Nasa's publicity effort, the ultimate expression of hyperbolic gee-whizzery. long time in the planning, Dungeon Master inspired Bloodwych finally appears on the Spectrum. One of the oldest legends of Trazere is the story of the Bloodwych, a secret order of psychic mages. For many aeons they ruled over the city of Treihadwyl, meting out punishment and reward to the citizens and communing with the elements on their behalf.

One day Zendick, second in power only to their leader Grand Dragon, decided to renounce the Bloodwych and practice black magic: he banished all his Bloodwych brothers to an astral plane. Now sole master of Treihadwyl he transformed the city. Dark and evil creatures of the night appeared and five towers were built to house energy sucking crystals which Zendick used to kill the land. But the immortal Bloodwych mages weren't finished yet. The spirits of two were sent to find sixteen worthy warriors to destroy the evil power. You (and a friend) play one of the spirits controlling the warriors who must recruit reinforcements and then collect four crystals from as many towers, take them to the fifth tower and NICK Bloodwych is a real challenge. You can spend hours exploring the game and interacting with the characters you come across — the trouble is that most of them only want to kill you! The control method is a little confusing at first, you do it all by moving a pointer around the screen and selecting the options to move, go into an inventory, fight, etc. This takes time and while you are moving the pointer the other character can be stabbing you! Moving around the game is awkward too but you soon get used to it.—The way all the options are laid out on-screen is bad on the eyes, all tightly packed together and in different colours, so playing for long periods results in a bad headache. It's worth it though: I had great fun roaming around, finding keys and opening all the doors. Bloodwych has a lot of depth and is worth spending some time with.

destroy Zendick.

From the character selection screen choose a team of four from 16 warriors. Four psyche types indicated by a different card sult are on offer: Spades (fighters), Clubs (mages), Hearts (adventurers) and Diamonds (assassins).

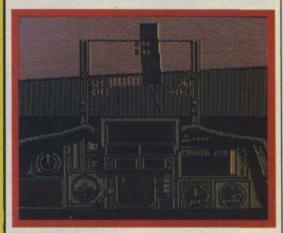

Movement as all other functions is controlled by icons, but only the elected leader (with a box round his character icon) can call the shots. Zendick's creatures wander the maze of corridors that make up the towers. Energy is lost if your characters are hit by them, but weapons either carried or picked up in the maze can be utilised. Exploration is really the aim of this game, and Interacting with characters met. Though slightly tedlous tromping through miles of samey looking corridors, this should provide good entertainment for those interested in RPGs. The icon layout is a bit difficult to control, with full mastery needing a lot of practice

3-D representations at the start are nice, but multi-load strikes you down very quickly. The shaded 3-D landscape graphics are pretty impressive too. As with many sims a lot of practice is needed, specially to complete the later missions. A reasonable flight simulation for aficionados.

MARK 75%

NICK At first, Fighter Bomber seems quite promising. The plane selection section has some really good full-colour aircraft pictures and a 3-D option shows your plane spinning around in the air. Then you discover multi-load (arrghhl). You stop and start the tape so often before start of play, you wonder if it's worth it. Once in you get a cockpit view, looking down onto a shaded landscape. Small lines amongst all the shading are supposed to represent roads and rivers - I can't quite see it myself. The thing worth looking at is the aircraft you're flying: you can jump out of the cockpit (not literally) and fly about the plane impressing yourself with the 3-D effect — It's quite good, to be honest. The actual missions you have to perform get so lost in the hype over the glorious 3-D that you haven't got a clue what you're supposed to be doing when you start. Graphically, Fighter Bomber will please all flight simulation fans, but the game hasn't had any lasting effect on me.
